ABSTRACT

This annotated bibliography on parenting resources is designed to assist parents and those who work with them to locate books on the many and complex topics that affect family life. The materials included encompass the various stages of parenting, from pregnancy and childbirth through the parenting of adult children. The many topics covered include: prenatal care; child development; recreation; health and safety; education; childrearing and parenting techniques; mental and physical disabilities; and activities to do with children. Also annotated are books aimed at special parent groups, such as single parents, teen parents, and working parents. The bibliography is meant to serve as a comprehensive rather than a selective list, and includes books both in and out of print. Some titles published prior to 1965 have been included, particularly if they represent an important contribution to the current items. Following the bibliography portion, which lists the book annotations alphabetically by author, indexes for title and subject are included, as is information about the bibliography authors. (HTH)
